NEIGHBORHOOD ATTRACTIONS

ABOUT AURORA

Aurora is nicknamed the “Gateway to the Rockies” and welcomes visitors and explorers. It has an ample outdoor recreation opportunities and has its own cultural arts district. Aurora is home to 100 parks and more than 5,000 acres of protected open space that encourage residents to enjoy an active lifestyle. Stanley Marketplace — a food-centric community market equipped to accommodate more than 50 independently owned Colorado businesses — recently opened in Aurora’s historic 1954 Stanley Aviation hangar. The City of Aurora is a diverse and growing city, and the demographics in the area reflect a mix of cultures and backgrounds. Aurora ranks number 1 in the state of Colorado for “Most Diverse Suburbs”. In addition, the city has a significant presence in the aerospace industry, with institutions such as Buckley Space Force Base and companies like Raytheon Technologies. The property's location (1960 Dallas St) is influenced by nearby residential, commercial, and industrial developments. C class/working class rental apartment homes will be in high demand near the new developments of A class buildings surrounding the Stanley Marketplace Center. In addition, just minutes away is the University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus, University of Colorado Hospital, Children’s Hospital of Colorado, the Veteran’s Affairs Hospital and the site of the developing Fitzsimons Innovation Community, a 125-acre bioscience park for a variety of biomedical research companies. As the medical campus continues its growth, employment in the area will only increase, making employees there and supporting businesses very likely to reach out into the surrounding area for rentals.
